

Paul Quinn

Paper & Forest Products Assistant Analyst

RBC

Paul Quinn has been a paper and forest products analyst for over 5 years, recently joining RBC Capital Markets in March 2008. Based in Vancouver, Paul also has responsibility for building up coverage of the renewable energy sector. Paul brings with him an extensive background in the forestry industry, including positions with MacMillan Bloedel and Weyerhaeuser. Prior to joining RBC Capital Markets, he covered the paper and forest products sector as well as being Assistant Director of Research for Salman Partners. Over the past several years, Paul has achieved consistently high rankings for stock picking (Starmine). He has undergraduate degrees in forestry from UBC and Lakehead universities.